Leaders Take Inventory Often of their Strengths and their Weaknesses

*By Henry A. Harbuck/ Ph.D., Th.D., D.Sc., OBIS
General Overseer*

Effective leaders have learned the importance of taking an inventory. Do you ever take an inventory? If, after an honest evaluation, you discover weaknesses in your character, would you try to improve in your weak areas? For example, if you know you're a good speaker, expand on this even further. However, this may be difficult if you're a pastor. Why? Because most church members lead their pastors to believe, "You're the greatest speaker in the world." Learn where your talent lies. Great speakers are rare. Decide now if you're willing to invest the hours of practice that will make you a great speaker. On the other hand you may have a flair for writing. But, don't waste your time trying to write books if you have no talent for writing. If possible, include other experts who aren't friends in your evaluation, lest you give yourself too many "points" for your abilities. There are many self-help books that may be purchased at your local bookstore that would also help you avoid the pitfalls that are common to us all. ♥

As a Christian I understand the important of a great Bible foundation. Paul tells us in 2 Timothy 3:16 that the Scriptures are great measuring rod for teaching what God wants for us. This verse also teaches us that the Scriptures are inspired by God. I have looked at many different Bible schools that taught the Bible but also affordable. A pastor that I knew gave me the web site of Omega Bible Institute and Seminary. I looked at some of the courses that were being given and also the cost of the course, I then decided to go for my degree. As I worked on my courses, I found out that I was given the opportunity to give my likes and dislikes on every course. Each course gave me time not just to read and do questions but also to come up with in-depth questions and answers to them, doing this I had to go deep into the Scripture. I have taken courses at other Bible schools all they wanted was for you to read and answer questions to pass. Omega Bible Institute, for me, goes beyond just answering questions but gives you the opportunity to study and come up with your conclusion. I started my degree to just get a bachelor's degree, but as i began to dig deep into the Scripture, I knew then that i was going continue and get my master's in arts in Biblical Studies. As of today, I am working to get my Doctorate in Ministry. I believe that if you are looking for a great school to learn the Word of God, this is the place to start your journey. The staff of this institute are very knowledgeable and helpful. Many schools just want your money and don't really care about their students, but from my experience I always have my questions and concerns dealt with promptly, and the Dean of Omega also have time for you. This group of spirit filled staff will be with you throughout your your educational journey.

It has always been my desire and zeal to study Theology. After searching the web for a Bible College, I decided to contact Omega Bible Institute & Seminary. On that particular day Dr. Henry Harbuck answered the phone and informed me that there was a storm in their area. The staff was out to lunch. He and I had a wonderful and inspiring forty minute talk. My search was over. Omega was my choice. Dr. Harbuck informed me that he would have the necessary enrollment forms sent to me. I immediately completed them and sent them back.

Shortly afterwards, I received notification that I was accepted. It was a very exciting day for me. I have enjoyed and benefited from the studies. it has also helped me in my church duties. I look forward to completing my studies at Omega, and sharing the good news about Omega with others.

Special Thanks to Dr. Henry Harbuck, Dr. Jan Harbuck, the Professors, and Office Staff Tiffany Tatum, Amber Blaylock, and Jessica Wallace!
